It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE TO EDITION OF 1887

In presenting this Alumni Record to the friends of the former Genesee College, the old Geneva Medical College and the later Syracuse University, the committee deem it advisable to place on record a brief review of the steps leading to this result.

The first attempt to secure materials for a record of the Alumni was made in 1870. when the removal of Genesee College from Lima to Syracuse was no longer doubtful. At the State convention held at Syracuse in that year (see Annals of Syracuse University isfra p. 21), a call for a meeting of the Alumni of Genesee College was issued signed by H. R. Sanford (No. 82) and C. Z. Case (No. 73), and a preliminary meeting was held at the Vanderbilt House in Syracuse. Out of this organization the present Alumni Association has grown and at this early meeting a committee was appointed to gain information concerning the Alumni and their personal history. The committee did its work, and while the blanks that were accumulated are now lost, it had the effect to renew the interest of many of the earlier Alumni in their alma mater. Later, in 1873-4, additional blanks were sent out by the University authorities but the results of this attempt are not now extant. The matter of an Alumni record of some kind was frequently brought before the Alumni Association at various times, but until 1880 nothing definite was accomplished, except that P. I. Moule (No 398) prepared a partial list of graduates with residences and was arranging a set of questions to be used in gathering material for a record. In that year a committee was appointed "to gather such data as may be necessary to make a complete Alumni Record of Syracuse University" by issuing a "call" through the church and ecular papers. This committee consisted of J. H. Zartman, '78, W. A. Brownell, '65, and Jane S. Higham, '76, for the College of Liberal Arts; D. M. Totman, '76, and Caroline A. Hatch, '77, for the College of Medicine; and N. A. Wells, '77, and Harriet S. Curtis, '76, for the College of Fine Arts. The following call was soon after published:

"STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

The committee on the 'Alumni Record' earnestly desire that all former students of the University, including the enrolled graduates of Genesee College, and friends of those deceased, will forward immediately to Rev. J. H. Zartman, East Homer, Cortland Co., N. Y., the answers to the questions found below:

- 1. Name in full?
- 2. Year of entrance?
- 3. Vear of graduation, or definite time spent in College, if not a graduate?
- 4. Graduating degree, or courses pursued if not a graduate?
- 5. Honorary degrees and titles?
- 6. Post-graduate and professional courses, when and where pursued, with degrees?
- 7. Residence, before entrance?
- 8. Residence, present?
- 9 Marriage, when and to whom? 10. Literary work performed?
- II. Occupations, with dates and places?
- 12. Facts of interest?

By order of Committee.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 28, 1881."

To this widely circulated call only forty answers were received and at the meeting of the Alumni Association in 1881 the committee was ordered to issue printed blanks and send to each Alumnus. With some questions additional to those of the above named "call," these blanks were issued 14 March 1882; a large amount of material was thus accumulated, but the Association seemed unprepared to undertake the work of publication. In the meantime the Onondagan, an annual student publication, for 1883 contained a brief "Alumni Directory" made up from various sources including some of the matter in the hands of the committee. This was repeated with some revision in the Onondagan for 1884. At the meeting of the Alumni Association in June 1884, a committee consisting of J. S. Clark, '77, and T. B. Stowell, '65, was appointed to assist the publishers of the next Onondagan in a revision of this directory. The committee that had been appointed in 1880 was ordered to hand over its material to the one just created and thus ended its labors; J. H. Zartman, '78, was then added to this new committee on revision. The publishers of the Onondagan for 1885 by reason of insufficient support on the part of the Alumni decided not to include a directory in their publication and matters remained in statu quo.

When the Alumni Association met in June, 1885, the spirit of publication vigorously seized it and a new committee was appointed to procure materials and arrange it for publication by June 1886. This committee consisted of J. H. Zartman, '78, C. W. Winchester, '67 and L. M. Underwood, '77. New blanks with some additional questions were issued 1 Oct. 1885. The result of their labors is contained in this volume. The wearisome task of collecting, editing and arranging this matter has, however, been a labor of love and it is hoped that a new interest will be aroused in every alumnus, and that there will result a better acquaintance with each other and with the extent of the influence of Syracuse University in its already wide spread Alumni. That errors will be found in the work is only too certain. Even if the blanks as returned had been complete and absolutely accurate, the transcription of so many details could hardly be accomplished without some errors, but in addition some blanks were known to be incorrect in certain respects. The committee has sought to make the records as uniform as the nature of the material would permit, but the extreme modesty of some Alumni as expressed in meager blanks has not made this possible; nor could the committee pass beyond its bounds and include some matter that some of the less modest have furnished, without seeming invidious. The records of Alumni in the College of Medicine were furnished by a separate committee and are unfortunately not so complete as the rest. The plan followed was to decide in general as to what class of facts should be entered and then in individual cases to introduce just as much as each individual furnished in the particular class of facts agreed upon. Where facts were incompletely furnished College records, registers and catalogues, and class, fraternity and student publications have been consulted to supply minor deficiencies, all of which has added not a little to the labors of the committee.

Dr. David M. Totman deserves the thanks of the Alumni and Faculty of the College of Medicine for the labor spent on the accumulation of records for the Faculty and graduates of that College.

As many changes have occurred since the Record commenced printing it is thought desirable to place the additions and corrections in a conspicuous position in the book, bringing the matter so far as possible down to the present time. Any noticing further corrections or wishing to make additions will confer a favor by sending to the committee care of Syracuse University.

Fraternally,

JOSEPH H. ZARTMAN, CHARLES W. WINCHESTER, LUCIEN M. UNDERWOOD.

Syracuse University, January 1887.

PREFACE

This volume is the second of its kind in the history of the University. It may be termed the second edition of the Alumni Record, for it contains most of the matter of the preceding publication and follows the general lines of presentation adopted by the editors of that excellent book. Those who are familiar with the edition of 1887 will at once note the changes. The principal change is the abolition of the separate lists of the graduates of the Colleges constituting the University. The method adopted is open to objection, but it simplifies matters considerably and makes a more compact presentation of the graduates of each year.

In future editions some radical changes should be introduced. The numbers are becoming so large that less detail and more compactness is imperative. The committee did not feel free to make great changes in this edition, but with the experience now acquired could suggest some that would be a decided improvement and fully meet the main purpose.

Ħ

The Introduction to the edition of 1887 records the history of efforts to secure the result that was realized in that volume. To obtain such a result some one must do a great deal of self-sacrificing and unremunerated labor. No more competent committee could have been named, each member contributing; the principal labor, however, falling to Professor Underwood, who did great and lasting work. Had this been followed up year by year by careful and systematic efforts at the Registrar's office of the University, the editing of this edition would have been greatly facilitated, and the long and tedious search for facts and details in no small degree obviated. It is the purpose of the present management of that office to make its records so complete as to earn the gratitude of future committees and editors.

Twelve years have intervened since the last Record was published. The growth of the University has been so marvelous that for several years alumni have been expressing a wish for another edition. A committee was appointed by the Association in 1894 to collect the data, but did nothing. The matter was referred to again in 1895 but without result. At the meeting in 1896 the present committee was appointed to do the work, and immediately set about it. Blanks similar to those before used were sent out, strenuous efforts were made to reach the alumni, and urgent request made that the requisite information be furnished. The effort was expensive and tedious, in many cases several blanks with letters being sent to the same person before the answer came. June, 1897, came and little had been accomplished; June, 1898, found the material nearly ready for publication, and the committee was given more time and full authority. At last the innumerable details have been arranged.

III

It has been deemed advisable to admit, in addition to records of faculties and alumni, other matters of interest to the latter. This book follows the example of its predecessor in this respect, but goes farther. It is, therefore, both an Alumni Record and General Catalogue of the University, and more than that aims to be a sort of manual of the institution. The purpose has been to make it so complete that a stranger could read in it, together with the current catalogue, the character of Syracuse University, the record it has made, the work it is doing, its personnel and its spirit. The faces of some of the noble men who have toiled in this field look at the reader from these pages. Most of these men have passed away and we are favored in having preserved for us the features beloved by alumni of many classes. The committee thought the preservation of these features to be a part of its work and a valuable part of the Record. It seemed also fitting to insert portraits of the general officers of the University. There are others whom it would be desirable to have, but there is a limit of expense which it would not be wise to exceed.

IV.

The editor had a hobby and has all along insisted that one feature of this volume at least should be ideal. That feature is an Index so complete that the reader would search for nothing in vain. But theory must yield to the practicable. Several alphabetically arranged lists of names appear besides the Index proper, namely, those of the corporation, of the faculty and of the non-graduates, and it would be a useless repetition to insert them again in a general index or in an index of names. All such lists are therefore referred to in the Index of Alumni. If the reader knows the relation of the person whose name he seeks to the University he can easily find the name by ready reference to its respective list; but if he is ignorant of that fact he might be obliged to examine each list. This is to be regretted but seemed imperative.

It will be noted that the surname is given first in the Index of Alumni, as is usual, while in the other lists it comes last. The latter are not primarily indices although in a double capacity serving as such, and it was deemed best to follow the usual method in descriptive lists. Names in lists and Index beginning with Mc stand at the beginning of the M list, in this following the order of the U. S. Postal Guide in names of places, and eminent precedents in the order of personal names. The table of contents will give the distribution of matter and the paging.

Foot-notes and other notes are added or inserted in several places where they are needed in the interest of a clear presentation.

It is regretted that the peculiar relation of the alumni of Geneva Medical College seemed to require that they be placed by themselves. They are alumni of Syracuse University, having been adopted by its Board of Trustees. But some might question the propriety of starting the alumni list in 1835 with graduates of a professional school, instead of the method here adopted of beginning with graduates of the College proper in 1852. This committee rather hopes that the class of 1835 will head the list in the third clition of the Record and that all such distinctions will disappear.

All alumni of Genesee College were admitted to identical relations with Syracuse University, 5 Dec. 1871. But the master's degree was conferred specifically by the latter upon some of these alumni. This was not exactly a case of ad eundem, but is treated rather as a case of in cursu, and in the personal records is inserted with no reference other than the year. As the degrees from 1872 on (except Geneva Med. Coll. 1872) are known by all to be those of Syracuse University it is not necessary to designate the source. Had it been possible to secure names and data all non-graduates of Genesee College, 1851-71, would have been added to those of the University. It is unfortunate that those names seem to be nowhere preserved.

It remains to make mention of those who have contributed material or labor to this book. Dr. Totman must come first, for, although due credit has elsewhere been given to the editors of 1887 of whom he was one, he has made possible the present record of the graduates in Medicine and deserves the gratitude of every alumnus. Mrs. Sibley of the committee furnished Several graduates and students have assisted, the Library statement. among whom may be named Miss Edna Hildreth, '99, who sent out the blanks and wrote numerous letters; Miss M. B. Churchill, '96, who wrote the Annals (mainly) from 1886 to 1897; T. Ralph Robinson, '98, who compiled the lists of the Corporation, Faculty, Non-Graduates, the Geographial Distribution, and did much other work; F. Mather Smalley, '98, who for the most part prepared the Index of Alumni, and worked out many statistics: Miss Elsie Packard, '99, who also did work on statistical tables; Miss Lanza T. Page, '98, by whose skill the numerical indices were prepared, etc. Other credits are given in loco. W. Y. Foote, '87, has rendered valuable assistance to the committee in looking after business details.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

OF THE

NEVA MEDICAL COLLEGE AND COLLEGE OF MEDICINE OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY*

(From the Record of 1887.)

he historian may be expected to direct our thoughts to local rather than bjects of general interest. It is eminently proper that he recount the ies, the honorable and noble deeds of the sons and sires of his Alma er, that the passing and coming generations may emulate their example. thus propose not only to go back to our Alma Mater, but to the history leancestry of the half brother adopted into the family of our Alma r, to Fairfield, an obscure, out of the way village of two hundred or thundred inhabitants, situated eight or ten miles north of Little Falls, erkimer county, just on the border line of civilization and the wilderof the Adirondacks, once famous as a seat of medical learning, a ige place to think of locating a medical college. As early as 1803 a ary academy was established at Fairfield. This may have formed a eus for the future medical college. The first medical instruction given airfield in 1809 would seem to have had some connection with this instin, as the medical school was first known as the Academy of Medicine sirfield. In 1812 the legislature of the State of New York granted a ter to this embryo medical school under the name and title of the llege of Physicians and Surgeons of the Western district of the State of York," known as Fairfield Medical College. It was placed under the tion of a board of trustees who organized the school the following year five professorships; which, if not in the beginning, were soon after i by Joseph White, Westel Willoughby, James Hadley, T. Romeyn -author of Beck's Medical Jurisprudence—and James McNaughton. was the sixth medical school organized in the United States, and upon sebenches many of the older physicians of this and other States obtained medical education. Our worthy Dean is an illustrious example of the lof doctors they turned out of Fairfield, and my own beloved and honpreceptor, the late Dr. John F. Whitbeck, of Rochester, graduating in same class (1835), from whose lips I learned much of Fairfield and its able faculty. Then a medical education was largely obtained by office reading under the direction of a preceptor, in some country village—there were not many cities then. The more popular, the better the reputation of the village doctor, the more students sought instruction in his office and at the bedside of his patients. He often gave most valuable practical clinical instruction in the village home, and at the farm-house bedside, where every opportunity was afforded of seeing, handling and patiently and critically examining for one's self most of the common forms of disease, the treatment of which constitutes the major part of the physician's labors.

These bedside talks of intelligent preceptors I believe are still invaluable to the medical student, familiarizing him with the details of the daily routine of medical practice, teaching the art of prescribing in many particulars which can be taught nowhere else so well,—certainly not in the large and crowded amphitheatres of our metropolitan schools, where distance from the patient, often lends enchantment to the view,—although under the guidance of our most gifted and learned clinical teachers. Both have their place in a medical education, but are we not disposed to overrate the one to the neglect of the other? Special, private, hospital instruction, in classes limited to six or eight, may, however, well supply the preceptor's clinic.

I have said Fairfield was a strange place to locate a medical college. Then there were no great highways of travel through the State, no canals, no railroads, not even a well-established through line of stages, and one place for convenience was about as good as another, there being no inland cities. New York itself scarcely equaled the present population of the city of Rochester.

Fairfield medical college held sway as a popular and flourishing institution for about thirty years, and well served its purpose for its day and generation. But thirty years brought a new generation, with altogether different surroundings; lines of stage coaches had appeared and disappeared, canals and railroads had changed and were changing the whole thought and business of the country, and Fairfield had to yield to the change of surrounding circumstances. The session of 1839 was its last session. In this last session of Fairfield Prof. Frank H. Hamilton delivered his first course of surgical lectures in a medical school.

Fairfield did a great and good work in the twenty-six years it was a chartered medical college, from 1813 to 1839. During these years 3018 students matriculated, and 555 of them received the degree of M. D. The first graduating class of the college, 1816, consisted of two members, Sylvester Miller and Horatio Orvis. The 2463 students, who did not graduate, no doubt mostly obtained license to practice by passing an examination before the Censors of the various county medical societies of the State, which was quite the fashion and style of the times.

Geneva Medical College was chartered in 1834, and the first course of lectures given in 1835, the following gentlemen constituting the faculty of the college: Edward Cutbush, Willard Parker (still living in New York).

Thomas Spencer, John G. Morgan, Charles B. Coventry, of Utica, and Amos Colman.*

The Albany Medical College obtained its charter in 1838, four years later, both proving rivals to Fairfield. At the breaking up of the Fairfield school at the close of the session of 1839 and 1840, the faculty found new fields of labor at Albany and Geneva. Profs. Beck and McNaughton were elected to chairs in the Albany Medical College, while Profs. Hadley, DeLamater and Hamilton were added to the faculty of the Geneva Medical College, greatly to its advantage, increasing its popularity and classes, rivaling in numbers the classes of some of the older colleges of the seaboard cities. But this prosperity was not to be lasting. The University of Buffalo instituted a medical department in 1846, proving a powerful rival to Geneva. * * * * Geneva Medical College as such had an existence of thirty-seven years, from 1835 to 1872. The period of its greatest prosperity being from 1840 to 1850. The largest class being that of 1844, with 196 matriculating students and 47 graduates. The smallest graduating class being four, in 1856. During these thirty-seven years the degree of M.D. was conferred on 701 students.

Great changes were taking place during these thirty-seven years in the moving centers of our population, in our social and industrial thoughts and habits, in the growth and development of our great inland as well as our sea-board cities by vast, widely extending, I may say continental, ocean to ocean rai'way connections.

Extremes of poverty and wealth meet in our large cities, without a known applied preventive remedy for either. For the economical administration of public or private charity to the sick poor, hospitals are a necessity. They have sprung up with the growth of our larger cities, and have been utilized by the many medical schools of the country for clinical instruction. Thus the tendency of medical thought has been less office reading and more college and hospital work—not enough of either yet—so that the location of a medical college in a village like Geneva has become altogether an obsolete idea; yet through the gates of Geneva many eminent men have entered the profession, men whose subsequent career would honor any college in the land. There is more in the man than in the college.

^{*}Geneva Medical College was chartered in 1834 and gave its first course of instruction in 1835. Its first faculty were Edward Cutbush, Willard Parker, Thomas Spencer, John George Morgan, Charles B. Coventry and Anson Colman. Its faculty at a later period, including several years, were James Hadley, John Delamater, Thomas Spencer, James Webster, Charles B. Coventry, Frank H. Hamilton and Charles A. Lee. After the Infalo Medical School was opened the Geneva faculty was re-organized, consisting at different times of the following members: John Towler, A. P. Bowen, Frederick Hyde, William Sweetzer, Joel Hardy, Caleb Green, George Burr, James H. Jerome, Alfred Butler, Nelson Nivison, Hiram N. Eastman, Ezra T. Allen, and Charles E. Ryder, some of Whom continued in their places, laboring in the school until it closed in 1872. When the Geneva Medical school was merged into the medical department of Syracuse University, the following members of its faculty, Towler, Hyde, Nivison, Eastman and Ryder accepted professorships in the latter new institution.—Medical Register of New York New Jersysad Connecticut, 1881. $\otimes$. 205.

The faculty of the Geneva Medical College, appreciating the situation, took steps in 1871 looking toward the removal of the college to Syracuse, in connection with the newly established Syracuse University, where two well appointed hospitals had been in successful operation for several years. Through the kindness of the hospital trustees the college obtained permission to use both these institutions for clinical instruction.

This movement of the faculty was successful. In 1872 the Geneva Medical College, with its valuable library and museum, was transferred from the village of Geneva to the city of Syracuse, and became the College of Medicine of the Syracuse University. The first steps in relation to this removal were taken late in the year 1871. A special meeting of the Onondaga County Medical Society was held in the court house of this city 18 Nov. 1871, to learn the views and feelings of the profession of the county in regard to such removal. At this meeting the late Bishop J. T. Peck, D.D., and Dr. W. W. Porter, of Geddes, took their seats as representatives of the Syracuse University. Profs. Frederick Hyde, of Cortland, and John Towler, of Geneva, were present as representatives of the Geneva Medical College. The subject was discussed by the above named gentlemen and by several members of the Onondaga County Medical Society.

The spirit and animus of this discussion was, if the college were removed it ought to elevate the standard of culture above the then prevailing standard common in nearly all the colleges of the country; that we had inferior colleges enough as to time of study and the requirements for graduation; that if a medical department were added to the Syracuse University it ought to inaugurate a plan for a higher medical education.

Dr. M. D. Benedict offered the following resolutions which were adopted by the society:

Resolved, That the Onondaga County Medical Society look with favor upon the establishment of a school of medicine in connection with the Syracuse University, to be located in this city, and that in case of the organization of such school we pledge the approbation and support of this society.

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this society that a transfer of the Medical School of Hobart College to this city would advance the interests of medical education in Central New York, and would greatly enhance the usefulness of this school.

Resolved, That a standing committee of five be elected by ballot to communicate the action of this meeting to the trustees of the Syracuse University, and to cooperate with the said trustees in the furtherance of the establishment of a Medical College in Syracuse

The following gentlemen having received the highest number of votes were elected on this committee: Drs. Alfred Mercer, G. T. Campbell, J. V. Kendall, J. P. Dunlap and R. W. Pease.

These preliminary steps were followed by the removal of the Geneva Medical College to this city, and the college was formally opened in temporary apartments procured in the Clinton block on the first Thursday of October, 1872, which rooms were occupied for college purposes for three years, when the college was removed to its present location on Orange street.

The following gentlemen of the faculty of the Geneva College still filled chairs after its removal to Syracuse: Profs. Hyde, Towler, Nivison, Eastman and Rider. Under the re-organization the institution was known as the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Syracuse University.

The following gentlemen constituted the faculty, giving the first course of lectures in Syracuse:

John Towler, M.D., Professor of General, Special and Surgical Anatomy; Frederick Hyde, M.D., Professor of Principles and Practice of Surgery; Hiram N. Eastman, M.D., Professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine; Nelson Nivison, M.D., Professor of Physiology, Pathology and Hygiene; Edward B. Stevens, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica, Therapentics and Botany; Charles E. Rider, M.D., Professor of Ophthalmology and Diseases of the Ear; Harvey B. Wilbur, M.D., Professor of the Diseases of the Mind and Nervous System; Rev. John J. Brown, A.M., Professor of Chemistry; Wilfred W. Porter, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children; John Van Duyn, M.D., Professor of Histology, Microscopy, and Assistant to the chair of Anatomy; Joseph P. Dunlap, M.D., Professor of Clinical Medicine; Henry Darwin Didama, M.D., Professor of Clinical Medicine; Roger W. Pease, M.D., Professor of Clinical Surgery; Alfred Mercer, M.D., Professor of Clinical Surgery; J. Otis Burt, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica; Wm. T. HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS

EX-DEAN GEO. F. COMFORT, L.H.D.

The College of Fine Arts was organized in the year 1873. Its distinctive feature is to present courses of study in the various branches of the Fine Arts, similar in breadth and scope to the courses in the colleges of Liberal Arts in our country. As this college was a new experiment in American education, there were no models at hand that could be followed or referred to for guidance. The work of organizing and developing this department of the University was, therefore, necessarily subject to conditions which might be modified as new opportunities and circumstances might arise. At the outset the faculty of instruction was formed from such helpers as were found in the city of Syracuse. As the improved financial condition of the University gradually permitted, accessions to the faculty were made from Europe . and America. The college has kept pace with the advance of public taste, and the great improvement in the teaching of drawing and other branches of artistic education in the public and private schools of our country within the last quarter of a century has rendered it possible to gradually elevate the standard of admission to the courses of this college, with a corresponding advance in the grade and quality of instruction and the standard for graduation, coördinate with the progress that has been made in the Colleges of Liberal Arts, and of Medicine and Law, in this and other universities during the last twenty-five years.

Since the College of Fine Arts was opened, in 1873, it has been attended, for longer or shorter periods, by 1395 students; of these 232 have completed courses of study and been graduated. In view of the short time that is usually given by the youth of America to the study of art, and the custom of confining the study to the practical or technical side of art, the proportion of graduates is larger than could have been anticipated or expected.

In the courses of study great prominence is given to the theory and the history of the respective branches of the fine arts, as well as to technical execution. A limited portion of time is given, also, to the most important related studies, especially in language, science and history, thus giving to the graduates a broad culture, in addition to critical knowledge and technical in their special lines of artistic study.

The magnificent building erected by the late Mr. John Crouse provides abundant accommodation for the work of this college. The Hiram Gee fellowship furnishes opportunity for the best graduate in the course in painting, in each year, to pursue advanced study in art in some country in Europe. The Leavenworth-Wolff collection of engravings of distinguished men of all countries and all ages is without a rival of its kind in America. The success of this college justifies the inauguration twenty-five years ago of this innovation in University education in America.

THE SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATIO OF NEW YORK CITY*

Within a radius of fifty miles with New York City Hall as a centre welliving in the autumn of 1891 over a hundred graduates and former student of Syracuse University and Genesee College. Previous to that time neffort had been made to bring them together as a body with common bond of interest in the university.

The initiative that led to the formation of the Syracuse Alumni Association of New York City, was taken by Miss Jennie Whitbread, '87, who wrote to several of the well-known alumni, urging the formation of such at association. This was followed by a meeting called by Rev. Ezra S. Tipple '84, to convene at eight o'clock on the evening of Nov. 20th, 1891, in a lecture-room of St. Luke's M. E. church, New York city, of which Mr. Tipple was then in charge, and there was formally begun the movement to organize the New York Alumni Association. At that time a temporary organization was formed with Mr. Tipple as president, and Miss Whitbread and Prof. B. C. Mathews, '77, were appointed a committee to draft a constitution. This temporary organization arranged for the first dinner which was given at "Clark's" on 23rd street.

At a later meeting, held in the Central Y. M. C. A. building, the constitution was adopted, permanent officers were elected and plans laid for the second annual dinner.

From this modest beginning the Association has grown to have forty-eigh active, nine non-graduate, one associate and twelve honorary (members of the faculties, not graduates of Syracuse, and trustees) members; a elaborate dinner has been an annual occurrence, since the first, alway held at the Hotel Savoy, one of New York's most beautiful hotels, attende by an enthusiastic gathering of the members and their friends and, owin largely to the liberality of Mr. Archbold, president of the Board of Trusteer rendered unusually brilliant as such college affairs go, even in New Yor city, by profuse decorations and by quantities of the choicest flowers to b found in the city.

No history of the Association would be complete without a full expressio of its obligations to Mr. Archbold for his interest in, and support of, ever movement of the Association. To Miss Jennie Whitbread, Rev. E. ? Tipple, Dr. B. C. Mathews and others belongs the credit of the Assocition's inception, to Mr. F. E. Trowbridge its thanks are due for liber support in the columns of the press; but most of all to Mr. Archbold is t? Association indebted, without whom it would not have succeeded so well its mission of publishing the value and the scope of our Alma Mater as t. "Ideal University."

THE ALUMNI ENDOWMENT

The records of the Alumni Association (1884) contain a report by John T. Roberts, '76, committee on the "History of the Alumni Endowment Fund." Beays: "The first recorded notice of an action looking to the accumulation of an endowment fund by the alumni is found in the minutes of the amail meeting of 1877. O. A. Houghton and J. J. Brown presented the following, which was adopted: 'Resolved, That C. M. Underhill, J. D. F. See, John S. Morgan, J. Dorman Steele and William A. Wood be and the same are hereby constituted a permanent committee to take charge of, push and solicit contributions to the Syracuse University Alumni Endowment Fund."

"It does not appear that this committee ever did anything. No report was presented by it in 1878. At that meeting, however, the subject of bringing funcial aid to the University was made prominent. A committee of five (I.H. Hoose, C. H. Fowler, M. S. Hard, Geo. W. Elliott, J. Alabaster) was promited to present a plan of work at the evening meeting and to take general charge of the matter during the year. The plan proposed by this committee comprised the following essential features:

"(1) Subscriptions to be contingent upon the securing of the entire amount $40,000, but to bear interest from the date of the pledge at 7 per cent.

"(2) Receipts from the interest to be covered into the treasury to be used is defraying current expenses.

"(3) The principal to be placed in the hands of the trustees for investment at their discretion."

At the Literary exercises held in the chapel of the Hall of Languages, Tuesday, 25 June 1878, Rev. Dr. C. H. Fowler, '59 (who also delivered the oution of the evening), moved that "an endowment fund of $40,000 for an alumni professorship be raised." He worked vigorously to secure subscriptions. It was announced the following day that about $5,000 (exactly $4,800), and been subscribed.

Mr. Roberts' report continues: "In 1879 Dr. Hoose reported for the committee. The nature of that report your committee is at present unable to the late. It was discussed at great length and finally adopted except the resolutions which it proposed.

"A cash subscription of $50 for the endowment fund was offered by the bard of editors of the University Herald and was accepted. What especition was made of this money the records do not show.

"The committee with some substitutions and additions was continued (J.H. Hosse, W. A. Brownell, M. S. Hard, Geo. W. Elliott, J. Alabaster, E. Kottingham)."

In the University Herald of 20 May 1880, appears a communication from the committee above named dated 8 May 1880, proposing a plan for securing the endowment. William Nottingham presented this plan at the annual meeting in 1880. It is as follows:

- "I. Each alumnus shall enter into an agreement with the Board of Trustees of the University, promising to pay to them annually, between the date of the contract and 1890, a certain sum towards an Alumni Endowment Fund of $40,000.
- "2. The board of trustees, on their part, shall agree, on the required amount being paid in, to establish an alumni professorship and to apply to the maintenance of the same the income of the fund so received by them.
- "3. In the mean time the money so paid in to the Board shall be invested by them in government securities, or shall be leaned upon approved real estate, secured by bond and mortgage, or shall be deposited at interest in savings banks.
- "4. The interest accruing on the sum so paid to them shall go to increase the general alumni fund.
- "5. The trustees of the University shall report annually to the alumni the amount of money so received by them, the manner in which it has been invested, and the total sum of the principal and interest on hand.
- "6. In case the whole sum of $40,000 shall not be secured previous to 31 December 1890, then each person contributing shall be entitled to receive back his pro rata share of the moneys so paid in, together with the increase of the same.
- "7. Those alumni who have already subscribed could very readily convert those obligations into the form of contract proposed by this plan."

The alumni adopted the plan with a slight amendment. Date 29 June 1880. "A committee of nine gentlemen and five ladies was also named to draft a form of contract in accordance with the plan. Under this revised plan efforts were made at considerable trouble to secure the transfer of the original subscriptions from the simple pledge to the legal contract form. Quite a number of subscriptions were eventually so transferred but representing only a small fraction of the aggregate amount," some of which were subsequently paid.

Dr. Steele, as alumni trustee, presented to the board the plan above stated on this same 29th of June, and after some discussion accepted a substitute offered by Bishop Peck, which was adopted by the trustees and reads as follows: "Resolved, That we instruct our treasurer to receive any moneys which the Alumni Association may pay to him on their professorship, with the understanding that said moneys shall be retained subject to the order of said Alumni Association, and if insisted, they shall be the owners and proprietors of the securities; and should there be any failure in the effort to endow the Alumni Association professorship, we suggest that the Association, and not individuals, be in control of said funds." The consequence was that the alumni, at their next annual meeting, 28 June 1881, abandoned the plan which they had adopted, but in which the trustees had not concurred, and the resolution of Bishop Peck is the law in the case to this day.

Mr. Roberts continues: "The contract form has been permitted to lapse, as being too much hedged in by conditions to be of vital use to the University and a subsequent movement, conducted on a simple basis, has supplanted all the old ones."

The first systematic effort to get subscriptions from the members of the graduating class was begun by the writer in 1881. The class of that year pledged $1,500, the announcement of which fact called forth from the Association a resolution of appreciation in honor of the class. It was then re-resolved to raise $40,000 and to secure $10,000 at once. Later (1885) the alumni pledged the trustees to be responsible for the interest on $10,000 until that part of the $40,000 should be paid in. This explains the item that figures in the treasurer's report year by year as "Alumni Association Pledge $10,000." It was pledged at the request of Chancellor Sims as part of $100,000 he was attempting to secure for endowment. The resolution offered by Mr. William Nottingham reads as follows:

"WHEREAS, We have now pledged to the alumni fund over $6,000, and a committee is instructed and equipped to go forward in the work of increasing that sum to $42,000, for the purpose of endowing a professorship in the University; now, therefore,

"Resolved, That the first $10,000 raised of said $42,000 may be counted as a portion of the $100,000 now being sought by the Chancellor, to the end that the income thereof go to the support of the University each year as a current fund."

It has now been paid in full and will figure no more in the reports of the treasurer.

The form of pledge used in 1881 was suggested by Chancellor Sims and reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned, agree together in consideration of each other's subscriptions to pay to the Syracuse University for an alumni endowment fund, the sums set opposite our names. The conditions of these subscriptions are that the principal shall be paid in five annual installments, beginning with the 25th day of June, 188-, and annually thereafter, with interest from date. The interest may be used for current expenses of the University, but the principal shall be held for endowment exclusively." This is called the "five year plan" and was by vote adopted by the association.

At the meeting in 1881 "the old committee was continued and a special committee, consisting of Frank Smalley, N. A. Wells and M. C. Dean, was created to solicit contributions from the members of the outgoing Senior class and the other recent graduates. In 1882 the special committee was continued with the following membership: Frank Smalley, chairman; E. S. Osbon, James M. Gilbert, John S. Morgan and M. S. Hard. In May, 1884, this committee issued a circular letter to the alumni urging further subscriptions.

From the minutes of 23 June 1885, contained in a report of the chairman of the committee: "The following is a brief statement of the condition of the subscriptions:

Under original contract form	1,500 00
Interest due on same	728 oo
Contracts changed to five year plan	450 00
Interest due on same	158 oo
New subscriptions on five year plan	3,87 0 00
Interest due on same	524 00
Entire total subscription since 1878	6 ,20 0 00
Subscriptions already paid	945 00
Interest already paid	326 38 "

At this meeting a "ten year plan" was adopted and subscriptions amouting to $2,300 were taken. The chairman of the committee was authorize by the board of directors to visit various parts of the State to make a person canvass in the interest of the endowment fund. This was done in the summer and a substantial addition made to the subscriptions. At the meeting 22 June 1886, twenty minutes were devoted to securing subscriptions a under the leadership of Dr. M. S. Hard, $3,101 were pledged. This was on the "ten year plan," the contract for which, drawn by Mr. Edward Nottingham, is still in use and reads as follows:

......189

A permanent endowment committee was appointed, the chairman beir unchanged, the other members being Professors J. Scott Clark and L. M. Underwood

Each class since, and including the class of 1881, has a list of subscribe to the endowment fund. The class of 1894 pledged $2600, and is the bann class.

Raising endowment in this way is necessarily slow work. Syracuse he few alumni as yet of large means and it is therefore doubtful if more continuously may have been secured than by the persistent annual soliciting the is as sure to confront an outgoing class as is the final examinations. Surguine alumni have proposed more expeditious methods but have found to way to work them. One generous giver proposed at an alumni banquet few years since that then and there $50,000 be raised as an endowment, but as that would average about $500 apiece for all present able to subscrib the enthusiasm was not apparent and the matter was dropped by generousent manifested by a dead silence.

The report made to the Association in 1898 is here reproduced, and will give the reader an idea of the progress so far made in the great undertaking.

It will be observed that the $10,000 pledge has been fully redeemed as above stated; also that there has been paid to the University in cash nearly $14,000 since 1880, very little having been paid before that; $14,000 in eighteen years, varying from $500 to $1,200 per year. The endowment funds are intact. Nearly three-fourths of the sum originally aimed at $40,000) has been subscribed, more than one-fourth has been collected and paid into the treasury of the University and stands to the credit of the Alumni Association.

GRADUATE COURSES AND DEGREES.

In 1876 the University published a pamphlet of "post-graduate" course following it with eight revisions, the last issued in 1893. (See Publications of Syracuse University.) Degrees were conferred on non-resident graduate, students after examination at the University. Since 5 Oct. 1893 residence at the University during the course as well as for examination has been required; however there were many instances of study in residence for higher degrees before that date. No particular object will be attained by listing the names of those who matriculated in the non-resident courses, but did not complete them, as they were in no proper sense students at the University. Those who completed courses and received degrees are in the list of graduate alumni.

The following is a list of resident graduate students who have pursued σ are pursuing courses at the University leading to higher degrees.

Coventry and Anson Colman. Its faculty at a later period, including several years, were James Hadley, John Delamater, Thomas Spencer, James Webster, Charles B. Coventry, Frank H. Hamilton and Charles A. Lee. After the Buffalo Medical School was opened the Geneva faculty was re-organized, consisting at different times of the following members: John Towler, A. P. Bowen, Frederick Hyde, William Sweetzer, Joel Hardy, Caleb Green, George Burr, James H. Jerome, Alfred Butler, Nelson Nivison, Hiram N. Eastman, Ezra T. Allen and Charles E. Ryder, some of whom continued in their places, laboring in the school until it closed in 1872. When the Geneva Medical School was merged into the Medical Department of Syracuse University, the following members of its faculty, Towler, Hyde, Nivison, Eastman and Ryder, accepted professorships in the latter new institution. - Medical Register of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, 1881, p. 205. (See p. 77.)

The list of graduates of Geneva Medical College published in the edition of 1887 contained 695 names. Dr. Mercer (see Historical Sketch, College of Medicine) says that "during these thirty-seven years (1835-72) the degree of M.D., was conferred on 701 students." The following list gives 721 names and follows in the main the General Catalogue of Hobart College. Rev. Dr. Hayes, of Phelps, N. Y., who did most of the work in preparing the General Catalogue referred to states that his list is compiled from the Records of the College, with the Medical Register and the Syracuse Record (1887) at hand for reference, and that there are many errors in the Record. We have given most weight to the Hobart Catalogue because it is nearest the sources, but have obtained by correspondence with the graduates many additional facts Dr. Hayes has been very kind and obliging in furnishing information. A more determined effort than we have been able to make would throw much more light on these records.

We have added the abbreviation, kon. (honorary) for such degrees as were conferred thus, and not in course. However, these were conferred on their recipients pro merito and they are not to be ranked in any sense as inferior to the degrees in course.

In reckoning the number of the entering classes the original registration cards were reterred to as far back as they are preserved. Prior to that time, catalogues were compared name for name to get the net entering class, excluding all who were freshmen by lailure to rank.

^{*}The splendid equipment just secured for the science departments will show good results in future statistical reports.

SUMMARY OF ALUMNI

-The attention of the reader is especially called to this table. It erical analysis of the work of the University, including Genesee n bulk and Syracuse University in detail. The results are all there. ear study. Dr. French began and kept running a similar tabulating s in his books, but his table excludes in each case all repeated o that the exact number graduating in a given year with a given id not appear in the table. His object was to get the correct numte final summing up. However, a close study of his table discloses fors, strange as it may seem. Probably he never intended to make than approximately correct. It seemed best for the purposes of ord to change the plan, and place in each column the exact number lates with the degree indicated and introduce other columns for I names. Thus the precise facts appear throughout and not alone a summary. To ferret out all repeated names and compel the figures spond with class numbers, etc., has cost more labor than a casual r would deem credible.

1 be observed that the graduates proper number 1638 (see column d that the entire number of Alumni, as shown by this table, is 1915 lumn 45). To this must be added the alumni of Geneva Medical as stated below.

gratifying to alumni that the University has conferred so few honorrees, although that is a proper function of such an Institution when ed with due care. The Summary, shown in the table, may be empharepetition as follows:

D.D.'s of Syracuse were ad eundem from Genesee, which is a repetid reduces the number conferred by Syracuse to 69 and the total of ry degrees to 183. No honorary A.M. was given after 1876 (up to time Syracuse had conferred 5) until 1897 when two were conferred ninent educators. Ph.D. honorary has been given in only two years, tree persons, two of whom were distinguished in educational work: third was Henry Randall Waite (Yale), editor of the International.

7. These degrees were given in 1872 (1) and 1876 (2).

1e 306 M.D.'s should be added the 721 degrees conferred by Geneva 1 College, making a total of 1020 for column 18. Thus of the 2636, more than one-third are physicians, the first M.D. having been red in 1835.

THE UNIVERSITY PAPERS*

On 10 April 1872 a subscription paper was drawn up and circulated among the students and friends of the University for the purpose of startings a monthly paper by the students of the University. Notices of the intention of starting a paper had appeared in all the city dailies and the people supported and commended the project. Two from each class were appointed to act as editors and publishers of the first issue, which it had been voted should appear about June 20. The name of the paper was The University Herald. From 1873 to 1878, volumes two to six, it was published by an association of twelve members, six from the Junior class, six from the Senior class. In the fall of 1878, the association of twelve members elected in March decided to abandon the work for which they had been chosen and a new paper, The Syracusan, was started by the chapters of Delta Kappa Epsilon, Zeta Psi and Psi Upsilon fraternities. But the old paper, under the same name, continued to be published without break. The work was taken up by other students in the University under the leadership of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. From that time it has continued under their leadership and is now the only college paper at the University owned and controlled entirely by students. In the Fall of 1898 its form was changed to a Literary Magazine.

The Syracusan was first issued 14 Oct. 1878. It was published by the chapters of the three secret fraternities then existing in the University. Delta Kappa Epsilon, Zeta Psi and Psi Upsilon. The publication was in the early part of its career issued every three weeks, but in later years issue was made every fortnight. The publication was continued for seventeen years, when, after the commencement of 1895, it was suspended together with The University News, to make way for the publication of The University Forum by the University authorities.

The control of the sheet underwent several changes in the 17 years. In 1884, Phi Kappa Psi then just entering the University was given the place in the board of control made vacant by the decline of Zeta Psi. The issue of 23 April, 1885, announced the withdrawal of Psi Upsilon. In 1888, Phi Kappa Psi also withdrew, and for the last seven years of its career, Delts Kappa Epsilon continued the publication alone.

The University News first appeared, 13 Dec. 1887. It was published by an association of students under the control of the Psi Upsilon fraternity. The first year it came out bi-weekly, but afterward was changed to a weekly n the spring of 1888, after the withdrawal of the Phi Kappa Psi's from The Syracusan, they were added to the University News Association, and coninued to assist in its publication until January 1890, when the whole control was again assumed by the Psi Upsilon Chapter. The paper was continued until commencement, 1895, when it ceased in order to make way for The University Forum.

In the spring of 1895, it was decided by the authorities to publish a University paper that would better represent University interests than any student paper could do. Thus The University Forum was started, Mr. Howard Hunt Reynolds '95 being appointed the first managing editor.

In Sept. 1897, appeared a little sheet of four pages called The University Tribune. It was published twice a week, Mondays and Thursdays. It was lively but short lived, continuing only through the college year 1897-8.

At present, the only papers published in the University, are The University Herald and The University Forum.

1. HISTORY

BY GEORGE HOPKINS BOND, '94

Athletics in one form or another seem to have been always associated with the student life in Syracuse University. It was doubtless the same in old Genesee before but the records are barren as to the details thereof.

It is a noteworthy coincidence too, that the periods of greatest athletic successes seem always to have been at times when the University itself was especially prosperous. Just what relation the two have borne to each other, one cannot say, but it is safe enough to presume that athletic victories have always increased and will always increase, the number of the students entering Syracuse, University, and will tend to strengthen the loyalty of those within her walls.

To-day, at Syracuse University, Athletics, or in a broader sense, physical training, is as much a part of the curriculum as Mathematics and rightly so. Student life must have some vent through which to pour its exuberant spirits which, if not directed, often lead to evil results.

In the gymnasium or upon the track or field, excessive spirits can be directed in channels beneficial to health, thereby bringing about better results in the class room, whereas otherwise they might break out in college rioting and disorder. Indeed, it is a remarkable fact and one for which faculties cannot claim credit except in so far as they have encouraged athletic training, that since the increase of intercollegiate games and the general building of college gymnasiums, hazing, drunkenness, mischievous destruction of college property and general student disorder, have been steadily on the wane.

Again, intercollegiate games and the victories they bring, have vastly increased the college spirit among alumni and under-graduates alike. They have played a great part in college traditions and, after all, it is the inheritance of traditions that makes a great University. Indeed the sacrifices incident to athletic training, the hard fought battles on the track, gridiron and ball-field, the earnest support of the non-contestants, all stimulate the love of alma mater and that is a sentiment which ought to lie in the heart of every college man and woman very close to love of country and love of home

There has been no step backward in the growth of athletics in general at Syracuse. Certain branches have become extinct. The cricket bats in the store-room of the Hall of Languages, the old University boat-house on the shore of Onondaga lake are relics of the past, but other sports more in were played with local amateur and professional teams. I m was the association or kicking games quite unlike the pre was confined to inter-class contests.

Chancellor Winchell supported all branches of sport, esp Baseball first emerged into an intercollegiate contest and was with Hamilton College in the fall of 1873.

There was considerable agitation to improve the condition field, but nothing of record appears until 1874 when the far a committee to provide suitable ball and cricket ground location of the athletic field had not been contemplated at the ball and football games were played in a meadow on the eversity Avenue, a square below the single college building.

In April 1872 a baseball association of the students was (October 1873 a constitution of Syracuse University Navy vit was not until March 1875 that an Athletic Association voontrol baseball, football, cricket and croquet with a common

In the same year Syracuse won her first intercollegiate ga Cornell at baseball, 20-14.

The first appearance of track games was in the Spring o day was held at Syracuse Driving Park and in all twenty tested They included a rifle match, an egg race, a footl wheelbarrow race.

Cricket was revived and evoked but Columbia and Harvard were the only colleges when played and the expense was too great to send the eleven Boating had already been given up as too expensive a sp

Syracuse won three and lost four games in the first year of this first league, and the amateur status of the players in some of the colleges was a source of contention.

During the next four years intercollegiate games were nearly given up. There was a baseball team and association football was played, but the College was not represented against its old rivals. Two reasons might be assigned for this: bitter fraternity rivalry and the lack of proper athletic grounds. There was one game with Cornell, but all other games were of a local character.

Track games, however, were held with marked regularity. Not one year passed without them. Perhaps it has been this persistent regularity in track training continued from those early days down to the present that has had much to do with the remarkable success of our University in track athletics in these later days.

It was about this time that what was known as the old gymnasium was equipped. It was in reality an old tool house, very dilapidated and totally inadequate for any use whatever. There were some athletic enthusiasts, however, who were determined that Syracuse University should at least make a start upon a place for physical training, and these students, at their own expense and by subscriptions, gathered together a few pieces of apparatus.

This gymnasium was simply disreputable and in the Spring of '86 was burned. Perhaps this was a piece of lawlessness, but it has been said that the originators of the plan hoped by this anarchistic means to forcibly call the attention of the powers to the urgent need of a real gymnasium. Surely it was not entire vandalism for tradition has it that the Janitor's setting hen was removed to a place of safety before the torch was applied.

After this, indeed, before this, most of the students desiring physical training went to the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium.

The roller skating craze was on at this time and Syracuse was represented by a polo team which played with the local teams and one game with Rochester University.

In 1885 Syracuse again entered the State Intercollegiate Baseball Association. At the close of the baseball convention in January 1885, the delegates re-convened to form an Intercollegiate Track Athletic Association, and the first field day was appointed to be held at Geneva in May 1885.

The Colleges were Cornell, Rochester, Hobart, Union, Hamilton, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, and Syracuse. Syracuse does not seem to have competed in this first field meet, but took fourth place in the second meet. Soon afterward Columbia was admitted to the Association.

In 1887, the third annual field meet of the New York State Intercollegiate Track Athletic Association was held in Syracuse. Cornell won easily and Syracuse was second.

The occasion was remarkable on account of a very closely contested rope Pall between Syracuse and Cornell. An intercollegiate tennis tournament Preceded this meet and was also won by Cornell.

It was in 1887 that Syracuse had the firs fields of intercollegiate sports. An invita baseball league with Cornell, University (Lehigh. Such a league might be advisable

The intercollegiate track and field meet w College won again with Syracuse second.

The next few years were remarkable fo decidedly in favor of athletics in the stude track and field upon the campus were im gymnasium was built and ready for occu. The track team won three successive field in Association, those of '91, '92 and '93. In '6 track men for ten days, namely, Mr. Piper and he was the first track coach. During team had been fairly successful, although State Intercollegiate Association often ha required funds were lacking.

Football had been a trifle more successfu team entered the State Intercollegiate For Union, Hamilton, Colgate, Rochester and S strong and had two men, Messrs. Winston a at various times during the season. (See Ar of Wesleyan, succeeding Mr. Galbraith, commintained throughout the season. (See A Colgate always seemed to be too strong for was about an even thing.

When college was opened in 1892 there we Hernandez, a Cornell man, coached for two tain struggled through the season as best

In 1893 Winston, a professional, coached for six weeks. (See Annals, p. 56.) The season was only a little more successful so far as games were concerned than that of 1892, but the basis for future successful teams was being laid. Both years the team remained in the State Intercollegiate Football Association.

Up to this period most of the misfortunes in athletics were due to unsystematic management. Individuals did their best but there was always a hitch where a new management began. Old mistakes were not corrected and indebtedness for which no one seemed to be directly responsible hurt the standing of the University with the business men of the city. Still much had been accomplished and the athletic spirit was stronger than it had ever been before. The victories of the track team had given to the student body of the time a taste of success, and this with the well equipped gymnasium, secured through the efforts of Chancellor Sims, standing out prominently on the campus, brought about a feeling that something must be done to systematize matters.

In 1893 the faculty appointed Professors Mace, Hargitt and Smalley a committee on athletics. The last-named, with the hearty assent and cooperation of his colleagues, prepared a plan of athletic organization involving a larger committee as stated below. The faculty adopted this "Charter," and the "General Athletic Committee" was appointed, and, on organization, (See Annals, May 1894, p. 58.) the author of the plan was made chairman, a Position which he still holds. The students welcomed an organization that systematized and unified all branches of athletics, and from that time this Committee has been the governing body in all athletic affairs outside of the Symnasium work itself. The formation of the General Athletic Committee is substantially the same now as it was at the time of its creation. It is Composed of three members of the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts and one faculty member from each of the other colleges, two alumni members, the director of the gymnasium, one under-graduate from each of the three upper classes in the College of Liberal Arts, one student each from the College of Fine Arts and of Law and two from the College of Medicine.

It is divided into sub-committees, each of which has charge of a particular branch of athletics, with one special sub-committee on finance. The student managers and captains are members of the particular sub-committee which has supervision over the department they represent, and are associate members of the General Committee, but have no vote.

The working of the General Athletic Committee is simple. It controls all finances, nominates managers to the student body, who elect or decline to elect as the case may be, and forms a responsible body which may be held accountable for athletic affairs by the Chancellor, trustees, faculty, students and those outside college circles.

The student managers arrange all details after consultation with the members of the sub-committee of which they are members, the sub-committee reports to the General Athletic Committee which can accept or reject the report or take up the subject in detail, with the freedom of full authority.

In the Spring of 1894 the State Intercollegiate field-day was held in Syracuse. Union, Hamilton, Colgate, Hobart, Rochester and Syracuse, all the colleges in the Association, were strongly represented. Union won after a close struggle with Syracuse, and the prizes, which were silver cups, were distributed in the evening at a joint concert given by the Glee Clubs of the respective colleges. (See Annals, p. 58.) This was the last important meeting of the New York State Intercollegiate Track Athletic Association: Bad feeling arose, and Hamilton college withdrew, to be followed some after by Union because that institution took offense when her basebateam was expelled from the Baseball Association in which the same sincolleges had been represented. The baseball team during the same Spring was not strong and did not complete the full schedule of games.

In the Fall of 1894 the development of the previous two football season began to show. The coaching was done by Geo. H. Bond, a graduate. L the State Intercollegiate Association, Hamilton was beaten 50 to 0, Roc ster by a smaller score and Union won in a close game. Outside the Association, the important games were a defeat by Cornell and Colgate, and defeats of Cornell's second team and Hobart.

Following the football season there was agitation for a better athlets field, and through the efforts of Chancellor Day, Mr. John D. Archbols president of the Board of Trustees, gave instructions to prepare and equip field and erect a suitable grand-stand at his expense. The appreciation this magnificent gift is keener each year and its usefulness more apparers

A class especially for the preliminary training of athletes indoors we organized by Mr. J. A. R. Scott, the Director of the Gymnasium, and he since been maintained. He has also given his attention to the teams aft-they have taken the field. His aid has been valuable especially in tentater of the physicial condition of the men.

In the spring the new athletic field was opened with an invitation meet which athletes from all parts of the State competed. (See Annals 8 Jun_1895, p. 61.) The contestants at the State Intercollegiate field day whimwas held in Syracuse, were Rochester, Colgate and Syracuse, and our own team won easily.

The baseball team also began to pick up in its work, although it we somewhat behind the other teams in point of actual victories. Finance we now the great trouble, and here Chancellor Day again came to the rescue obtaining from the Trustees the authority to credit to athletics the sum $3.00 from each incidental fee paid by the students as a part of the tuition. This was a smaller sum than many students had given before, it ensured a fixed sum which was in the aggregate much more than hade been raised previously and it had the added advantage of distributing burden which before had been cheerfully borne by the minority for sake of the reputation of the University on the athletic field. In return this credit tickets are now issued to all students which give them admetance to all games and there is no fee for gymnasium privileges; so that all, the money expended upon athletics by the individual student at racuse University is probably smaller than in any other prominent college the country.

Four years, 1895 to 1899, have passed under this regime and it may be thirdly said that the athletic prowess of Syracuse University has exceeded a most sanguine expectations. Every competitor of previous years, cept Cornell, has been defeated. Our reputation has gone beyond the nits of the State. It is impossible in a limited space to properly out-line of the steps that, in baseball, led up to the defeat of Wesleyan; in ack athletics, to scoring fifth place, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Harvard and Yale alone scoring more points in the great American Intercollegiate and day games at New York; or in football to the struggles upon our own and with Trinity, New York University, and Cornell, which have been the complishments of the year 1898.

Some mention ought also to be made of the regular in door athletic sets which have been held annually in the gymnasium, of the saketball team which has represented the University in 1897 and 1898, as ell as of the ladies' basketball team. Then there is the fencing club of we winter of 1898-99. All must certainly come under the general head of thletics.

A few notable events of the years 1895, 1896, 1897 and 1898 in football, seeball and track sports should be mentioned before concluding this meager word of more than a quarter of a century of athletics in Syracuse hiversity.

In 1895 and 1896, Geo. O. Redington, a Syracuse University man of two sam, afterwards of Yale, coached the football team.

In 1897 and 1898, F. E. Wade, a graduate of Yale ('96) and of the College of aw, Syracuse University ('98) coached the football men. There was a pecuarly fortunate element in the coaching of Redington and Wade. While both id the skill and training of Yale men in football tactics, they also had an terest in the success of the team growing out of their undergraduate conaction with the University, which made their work of far greater value an that of the paid coach only.

In 1895, Syracuse took the first step out into wider fields by meeting illiams College at Williamstown, Mass. Williams was victorious but her al line was crossed twice. Cornell was held down to eight points and algate was defeated for the first time the same Fall.

In 1896, Syracuse again met Williams, this time at Albany and was again feated after putting up a strong fight. During both 1895 and 1896 ochester and Hobart were defeated, and several games were played with her than College teams, notably some close contests with St. John's ilitary Academy.

In 1897, Union with which College no game had been played for two ars, came down to Syracuse and was defeated, 40-0.

A tie game 6-6 was played with Colgate at Hamilton. These were the ost notable games in 1897.

In 1898, the team went as far west as Cleveland and defeated Case Scientific School. New York University was defeated at Syracuse, and Trinit came west and played a tie game on the Syracuse campus. Cornell for the first time sent her first eleven to Syracuse. Syracuse was defeated by made an excellent showing.

During the four years from 1895-1899, the baseball team also made a very rapid advance. Union, Colgate, Rochester and Hobart were defeated at time or another. In 1897, the nine defeated the United States Military Academy team at West Point by a score of 20-2, and in the Spring of 1894 came the still more notable defeat of Wesleyan. Syracuse and Wesleyan long rivals for students among certain preparatory schools, had never before met upon the athletic field, and the defeat of the older institution by score of 8-5 was a source of considerable gratification. Two games was lost to Cornell, one a twelve-inning game closely contested. These game did much to increase student interest in baseball. A thirteen-inning to game on the campus with the University of Vermont showed by the supple accorded the team a permanent reinstatement of interest in collegiate baseball which gives great promise for future teams.

During the same four years the record of the track team excelled that deither of the other teams.

The State Intercollegiate Track Association became finally a dual contest with Rochester, the other colleges having withdrawn to form a union by themselves. In baseball and football the same thing occurred. On the part of some at least of the old rivals, there seemed to be a spirit of animosity toward Syracuse, and it was with difficulty that games could be arranged with them in baseball and football, and some years this was not possible. In track athletics it was out of the question. Syracuse refused to abandous the old association in favor of the Union which had been entered into by Hamilton, Union, Colgate and Hobart, on the ground that certain qualifications imposed upon contestants were unfair to a portion of her students on account of conditions and courses which existed at Syracuse and which were not found in the other institutions. Rochester and Syracuse continued their relations under the old name of the State Association, but Syracuse began also to look about for stronger opponents.

The first opportunity came in the Spring of 1896, when Syracuse met and defeated Williams on the grounds of the Ridgefield Athletic Club at Albany by a score of 66-46. During the winter of 1895 admission had been secured to the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletis of America, and at the Spring games in New York, at which almost every prominent college in the United States was represented, Syracuse computed for the first time. Three men Fikes (No. 1455), Kraus (No. 1383) and Brown (No. 1353) represented Syracuse. As had been half expected it was not possible to secure even a point. Nothing daunted, a team of four meas was sent in 1896 to the "Mott Haven Games." These men were C.D. Whittemore '99, E. H. Kraus (No. 1383), E. W. Murray (No. 1596) and H.

GYMNASIUM AND ATHLETIC FIELD

GRAND STAND

G. Lee '99. Though they made their presence known, they also failed to score.

In 1897 Cornell for the first time met Syracuse in a dual meet. The field day was held on "University Oval" and Cornell won 67-45. The week following the Williams team came to Syracuse and turned the tables of the previous year, winning by a score of 65-47. This defeat taught Syracuse not to schedule two hard meets on successive Saturdays.

Rochester was overwhelmed the same spring, but the chief consolation of the year came through winning one point in the games of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America. This one point was secured by Whittemore's taking a third place in the 100-yard dash. It was the lowest possible score, but was better than most of the contesting colleges made, because the strong teams of the largest institutions took nearly everything and that one point tied Syracuse with Cornell for sixth place.

In 1898 in addition to the regular gymnasium training, Frank E. Wade, who had been the football coach, and who had been a member of the Yale track team, was secured to coach the men upon the track.

The Syracuse-Rochester games this year were not held on account of the large number of Rochester athletes having enlisted in the volunteer army, but the regular Cornell meet was held and Syracuse defeated in spirited games by a score of 62½-49½.

Then came the games of the American Intercollegiate Association.

Four men were sent to New York, and this little team performed the remarkable feat of scoring nine points in a field day which was without parallel in the history of the Association for extraordinary performances and the number of records that were broken. In this contest of champions, the colleges stood, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Harvard, Yale, Syracuse. Afterward came Columbia, Cornell, Williams and a number of other prominent colleges.

Syracuse took a fourth place in the 100-yard dash; second place in the 440-yard run and first place in the broad jump. Besides securing first place in the jump, Prinstein, '01, the Syracuse contestant, established a new American collegiate and intercollegiate record of 23 feet 7% inches.

The members of the team were H. G. Lee, '99, Lewis, '99, Whittemore, '99 and Prinstein, '01. The skill of the first three of these men and to some extent at least of the fourth, was the result of Syracuse University training.

The year 1898 marks also the complete recognition of athletic relations between Syracuse and Cornell, the latter having sent her three teams, football, baseball and track, to Syracuse to compete upon our campus.

This concludes the review of about twenty-seven years of the history of athletics in Syracuse University, and the present time finds every department stronger than it has ever been before. The fortunes of our future teams may vary slightly, but it is safe enough to say that Syracuse University is capable of maintaining her athletic reputation undiminished and that greater honors await her in the future.

But to gain the athletic success that now lies within the reach of our alma

Athletics are in college to stay. 3. SKETCH OF THE SYRACUSE ACADEMIC ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

BY T. R. ROBINSON, '98

The position which Syracuse University has taken in track athletics rendered it very fitting that she should inaugurate this academic association. The object as stated in the constitution is "the advancement of amateur athletics among preparatory schools." A circular letter was sent in the spring of 1898 to the gymnasia of the University and to a number of other preparatory schools, inviting them to send representatives for the purpose of organizing an association and teams for a meet on the University field.

The "Syracuse Cup" was the prize to be given to the school winning the most points and to be held by that school for one year. Fourteen leading preparatory schools responded to the invitation and the evening before the field day, 27 May 1898, a permanent organization was effected by the adoption of a constitution. By the provisions of this constitution Syracuse University becomes the patron, and offers to the association its active and moral support. The annual field days are to be held on the University Oval and the management is placed in the hands of the Executive Committee of the Association together with the General Athletic Committee of the University.

The formation of this association was the result of correspondence between A. L. Travis, 94 of the Hudson River Institute (Claverack) and Prof. Smalley. The idea received the sanction of the General Athletic Committee and the latter was asked to take active charge of the meet and the formation of the association. In this work he was greatly aided by A. L. Travis, '94; Instructor E. R. Smith, '96, then of Cazenovia Seminary, now of the University; Mr. Scott, Director of the Gymnasium; and Messrs. Robinson, '98, Manager, and Boland, '99, Asst. Manager of University track team.

The meet was a success from every standpoint; the representatives of the schools enthusiastically agreeing on the advisability of perfecting a permanent organization. It is confidently expected that the influence of this association as now organized will be felt for purer athletics not only in preparatory schools but in the colleges which draw from these schools.

The following schools united in the organization of the Association:

Hudson River Institute, Claverack, N. Y. High School, Syracuse, N. Y. Yates Academy, Chittenango, N. Y. Utica Free Academy, Utica, N. Y. High School, Pulaski, N. Y.

Mexico Academy, Mexico, N. Y.
Fairfield Seminary, Fairfield, N. Y.

Cazenovia Seminary, Cazenovia, N. Y.
High School, Jordan, N. Y.
Normal School, Cortland, N. Y.

Syracuse High School won the Cup for the year 1898-99 by a close margin. The records of the Association are appended:

HONORS

For twenty years after the establishment of the University at Syracuse no system of honors was recognized. This may have been due to indifference or to conviction. There was certainly some pronounced opposition in the faculty. In 1891 a committee of the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts was appointed to revise the rules and regulations and that committee devised an honor system. The rule was expressed in the following words:

Grades. Higher Examinations. First Grade. A student who shall pass the higher examinations in work representing not less than ten hours per week for a term, of which hours not more than four shall be under any one Professor, will rank in the first grade and be so bulletined by name; and the names of all students who shall attain this distinction at least two terms of any one year will be so published in the next Annual. All other students will rank in the second grade.

Second Grade.

A student who shall pass the higher examination on any subject with marked success may be distinguished by the Professor as having passed "with high honor."

With High Honor.

Eligibility.

A student in order to be eligible to the higher examination in any subject must attain in the term's standing a percentage definitely fixed by the faculty; but any student who is eligible in the greater portion of the term's work may try the higher examinations in all the work of that term; a failure in any one of these examinations prevents ranking in the first grade for that term; in that case however the student may request an examination of the rejected papers by a committee appointed in each case from and by the faculty.

Appeal.

Proficiency Required. The degree of proficiency required for passing the higher examinations is fixed by the faculty and is uniform for all departments.

The Annual of 1891-2 states briefly the rule as given in the first paragraph above, and designates first grade students by a star.

In 1892 the regulations were modified and appeared as follows:

Grades. Higher Examinations.

First Grade.

A student who shall pass the higher examinations in work representing not less than ten hours per week for a term, of which hours not more than four shall be under any one Professor, except when less than six hours are taken under other Professors, will rank in the first grade and be so bulletined by name; and the names of all students who shall attain this distinction at least two terms of any year will be so published in the next Annual.

784

With Honors.

A student who shall pass the higher examination any subject with marked success may be distinguished the Professor as having passed "with honor."

Eligibility.

A student in order to be eligible to the higher examination in any subject must regularly attend the class exercises for at least two-thirds of the term and attain in the term's standing a percentage definitely fixed by the faculty; but any student who is eligible in the greater portion of the term's work may try the higher examination in any subject on presentation of a card showing such eligibility; a failure in any examination, term of higher, which is reported F prevents ranking in the first grade for that term.

Proficiency Required. The degree of proficiency required for passing the higher examinations is fixed by the faculty and is unform for all departments.

The Annual of 1892-3 adds, "Those who maintain first grade rank for two or more terms in the year are eligible to Commencement honors."

In 1894 the faculty reconsidered the whole subject and adopted the fol-: lowing:

SCHOLARSHIP HONORS

In the College of Liberal Arts students are classified as to scholarship in each study of every term into four grades designated A, B, C and D. Those attaining grade A for an average of twelve hours per term for the entire course, receive diplomas at graduation bearing the words summa cum laude; the diplomas of those ranked B, twelve hours per term, are marked magna cum laude; and the diplomas of those ranked B, nine hours per term, bear the words cum laude. For this purpose grade A, one hour, in deemed equivalent to grade B, two hours. (See Annual 1894-5.)

This principle was finally modified the following year and appears in these words:

In the College of Liberal Arts students are classified as to scholarship in each study into four grades, designated A, B, C and D. Those attaining grade A for an average of twelve hours per week for the entire course, receive diplomas at graduation bearing the words summa cum laude; the diplomas of those ranked A, four hours, and B, eight hours per week, are marked magna cum laude; and the diplomas of those ranked B, size hours per week, bear the words cum laude.

In this rule two B's do not count for A, but A may always be counted for B

The first diplomas to bear honor distinctions were issued to the class of 1896. A list is appended of those who have received these distinctions. To be strictly just an honor list should include those who ranked first grade from 1891 to 1896, but that would raise the question of justice to the Commencement speakers from 1872 down, the principal element in whose selection is supposed to have been scholarship. We confine the list, therefore, to those honored under the system now in vogue.

The Numerical Index of graduates will show at a glance what persons have received the honor of election to Φ BK. The application of Syracuse University for a Chapter was granted 11 Sept. 1895 (See Annals). The class of '96 was the first to receive election at graduation.

It will be noticed in comparing the list of those elected to Φ B K, with the list given above that the former are pretty well distributed among the departments.

A careful study of the reports on which elections were made will show that each one who succeeded stood high in all departments. Of course no one department could furnish the marks necessary to give even cum laude. To receive the highest honor a student must receive the maximum marks in at least four departments.

NON-GRADUATES

1871-99. ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED

This list of matriculants includes both students who left college without taking a degree and students now (Jan. 1899) pursuing courses, the latter being distinguished by small capitals. No Gymnasial students are included. Small letters at the left designate the respective colleges, i.a. Liberal Arts, etc. (see pp. 110-126). The place from which the students came is given with almost all names; if a second place occurs it denotes present address, which is always given when it could be learned. Many brief records of former students accompany their names. The editor regrets that the diligent efforts made to secure records were not more fruitful. Additional information from any source will be gladly received.
